

KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS

Kindergarten teachers are responsible for overall development of a child. As a pre-nursery teacher, my goal is to work on child psychology.

Teaching of basic skills such as fine motor skills, pencil holding through different activities such as clay modelling and block building. Mass participation in each and every activity.

Teaching of moral values among students so, that they can become good human beings and of course a good citizen too.

Teach the healthy eating habits to maintain their health and personal hygiene.

Organise and lead activities designed to promote physical mental and social development such as storytelling, art, music, etc.

Regular meeting with parents and guardians regarding the progress of their wards and to find out the priorities for their children.
